EVENT REPORT

Place of Visit: Kaas Pathar (Satara), Katraj Snake Park (Pune) and Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Paace (Kolhapur)

Date of Visit: 29/09/2018 – 02/10/ 2018

No. of Students Participated: 56

Objectives of the Visit:

- To understand the ecological significance of Kaas Plateau as a UNESCO World Heritage Site and its role in conservation efforts.
- To understand the ecological role of snakes in the ecosystem and the significance of reptile conservation on the site of Katraj Snake Park in Pune.
- To witness the rich art, architecture and history of Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Palace of Kohapur.

About the visit:

The study tour aimed to provide participants with an opportunity to explore the rich natural landscapes and historical heritage of Maharashtra. By visiting Kas Plateau, Katraj Snake Park, and Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Palace, participants gained valuable insights into the biodiversity, conservation efforts, and cultural heritage of the region.

Kas Plateau: Kas Plateau, also known as the "Valley of Flowers of Maharashtra," was the first stop of our tour. Located near Satara, this UNESCO World Heritage Site, adorned with vibrant wildflowers during the monsoon season, enlightened the participants about the conservation challenges facing the plateau and the efforts undertaken to preserve its biodiversity.

Katraj Snake Park (Pune): The second leg of our tour took us to the Katraj Snake Park in Pune. Home to a wide variety of snake species, including the majestic King Cobra. Through interactive sessions and guided tours, participants gained insights into reptile conservation, snakebite management and ecological role of snakes in the ecosystem as well as the importance of public awareness and community engagement in mitigating human-snake conflicts and promoting coexistence.

Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Palace (Kolhapur): Our final destination was the Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj Palace in Kolhapur. Built in the 19th century, the palace offered participants a glimpse into the opulent lifestyle of the Maratha rulers and their contributions to art, architecture, and governance.

What students learned during the Visit:

- Students were energized by the excitement and anticipation of leaving the college environment.
- Students had the opportunity to explore new things and learn about them in a more unstructured way.
- Students had the opportunity to determine what they learn and how they learn it. Said differently, student learning can be interest-driven, not teacher and curriculum driven.
- Students experienced a more holistic, integrated picture of the information that, in the classroom, may have only been presented in a textual and abstract way.
