SUMMARY REPORT

The course on "Design and Development of E-Content" aimed to equip students with the skills and knowledge needed to create effective and engaging digital content. The course covered various e-content development tools and their practical applications, emphasizing creativity and technological proficiency.

The course facilitator Prof. Mahesh Deshmukh skillfully coordinated the online learning experience, ensuring students gained a comprehensive experience.

The course began with an introduction to the design and development of e-content. Students learned the foundational principles of creating digital educational materials, focusing on the importance of engaging and accessible content.

In the second module, students explored several e-content development tools, including Creately, Mentimeter, and MindMup. These tools were reviewed for their capabilities in creating interactive presentations, mind maps, and collaborative diagrams.

The third module introduced additional e-content development tools such as Word Art, Hatchful for logo creation, and various quiz-making platforms. Students learned how to utilize these tools to enhance the visual appeal and interactivity of their e-content.

The fourth module focused on Renderforest, Canva, Powtoon, and Pixteller. These tools were highlighted for their versatility in creating videos, graphics, animations, and other multimedia content. Students practiced using these tools to develop comprehensive and engaging e-content.

The review lectures provided students with a robust understanding of various e-content development tools and techniques. Through practical applications and hands-on practice, students enhanced their ability to design and develop engaging digital content. The course emphasized creativity, interactivity, and technological skills, preparing students to effectively use e-content in educational and professional settings.
