A STUDY ON USAGE AND ATTITUDE OF FACULTIES TOWARDS INTEGRATION OF E-CONTENT IN CURRICULUM DELIVERY

B I U

Dear Friends,

I request you to share your experiences and opinion towards the use of online education in curriculum delivery in the midst of the pandemic. Your opinion will help in understanding the challenges faced by the faculties across the higher educational institutes and to conduct need analysis ensuring delivery of apt training programs in coming future. Further, I assure you that your opinion and views will not be shared and used for research and training purposes only.

Regards,

Mahesh Deshmukh, Department of English, Sonopant Dandekar College, Palghar. In case of any queries, you can email me on maresh_m_deshmukh@yahoo.com.

(57) Abstract :

Accordingly, embodiments herein disclose a system for tracking and monitoring smart garbage using IoT technology. The system comprises a microcontroller, and a plurality of sensors which is designed for weight measurement of the garbage with respective locations. The microcontroller is received input data from the plurality of sensors. Further, the proposed system may include a global system for mobile communications (GSM) module designed to communicate the registered mobile to accumulate the amount of waste for corresponding location. The plurality of sensors is used to gather information regarding the collection of garbage weight for particular location. Furthermore, the system automatically provides the information through the message to the registered mobile of the respective municipality of the city, thereby effectively restricting the garbage collection problem in the neglected areas of the city.

(57) Abstract :
Accordingly, embodiments herein disclose a railway accident prevention system using sensor based mechanism. The system comprises a plurality of infrared (IR) sensors configured to position at the incoming and outgoing paths of railway track, and an ultrasonic sensor configured to arrange at a railway station to sense the arrival of train. Further, the proposed system may include a microcontroller designed to connect with the infrared (IR) sensors and the ultrasonic sensor, and a buzzer designed to connect with the microcontroller. One of the infrared (IR) sensors senses the arrival of train, and the other one of the infrared (IR) sensors senses the train traffic signal which turns red and railway gates turn 90 degrees downwards closing the path for vehicles and allowing the train to pass freely.

A ROBUST AND LIGHTWEIGHT MONOLITHIC AEROGEL COMPOSITE AND ITS PROCESS FOR PREPARATION The present invention relates to a robust and lightweight aerogel composite. The present invention relates to a synthetic fiber reinforced monolithic silica aerogel, a process for preparation of synthetic fiber reinforced monolithic silica aerogel and use of said monolithic silica aerogel in manufacturing of thermally stable materials. The fiber reinforced monolithic silica aerogel of the present invention is robust, lightweight, non-breakable, hydrophobic and having low thermal conductivity.
