ABOUT COLLABORATING COLLEGE

Wilson College, established in 1832 by the renowned Scottish missionary, Rev. Dr. John Wilson, is the oldest institution of higher education in Western India and has made pioneering contributions to the growth and development of education in India. Rev. Dr. John Wilson was one of the founding fathers of the University of Bombay (now Mumbai) established in 1857. The college has throughout maintained rich traditions of integrity and freedom of expression which have motivated several of its students to be dedicated nation builders and leaders in all walks of life including the Former Prime Minister of India, Morarji Desai, Bharat Ratna P.V. Kane and Bharat Ratna Dhondo Keshav Karve. The College offers Under-Graduate courses and Post-Graduate courses in the domains of Arts, Science, Commerce, Management, Mass Media, IT and Computer Science. Ph.D. programmes are also available in Chemistry, Botany, Microbiology and History. Wilson College attracts students from all parts of the country and also from neighbouring countries. Wilson College has been re-accredited as 'A' grade for the third time by NAAC.

ABOUT SFDC

Sydenham Faculty Development Centre (SFDC) has been established in 2008 under the aegis of RUSA, Maharashtra, from the grants received from the MHRD, GOI under the 'Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching' (PMMMNMTT) Scheme. The main objective of the SFDC is to conduct training programmes for the newly inducted and in-service faculty in the institutions of Higher Education. Training Programmes under PMMMNMTT aim to develop four possible types of skills among teachers – personal (interpersonal skills, career development, and life planning issues); instructional (course design and development, instructional technology); organisational (ways to improve the institutional environment to better support teaching) and professional (ways to support faculty members so that they fulfil their multiple roles of teaching, research, and service). The development of these skill sets among the teachers of affiliated colleges is necessary to take up the challenges of syllabus revision and evaluations reforms.
