About the Event- On 25th January 2023, the Department of Life Long & Extension (DLLE) organized a 'Lecture on Research Methodology'. Asst. Prof. Maqsood Memon, Head of BMS Department, Sonopant Dandekar College Palghar, Delivered a wonderful speech on various techniques in research methodology.

OBJECTIVES:

The objective of a seminar on research methodology for college students is to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of research methods and techniques. The seminar aims to equip students with the necessary knowledge and skills to design and conduct research projects effectively, fostering critical thinking and academic rigor.

LEARNING OUTCOMES:

Participants will gain a solid understanding of the basic principles and concepts of research methodology. They will learn about different types of research, research paradigms, research questions, hypotheses, variables, and the importance of research ethics. The seminar will cover various research designs, including quantitative, qualitative, and mixed-methods approaches. Participants will learn how to formulate research objectives, develop research questions, and design a research plan, including selecting appropriate methods, sampling techniques, and data collection tools. Literature review: Participants will learn how to conduct a thorough literature review as an essential component of the research process. Data collection methods: The seminar will introduce participants to different data collection methods, such as surveys, interviews, observations, and experiments.
