SUMMARY REPORT

During the COVID-19 pandemic, a comprehensive Android Development course was conducted online to equip participants with essential skills in mobile app development. The course aimed to address the growing demand for skilled developers in the tech industry and provide learning opportunities amidst lockdown restrictions.

Course Overview

Date of Enrolment: 22nd September, 2020

Date of Completion: 5th November, 2020

Duration: 60 Hours

Mode of Delivery: Online (via Zoom)

Participants: 40

Instructors: 2 Faculties with extensive experience in Android development

Assessment and Certification

Quizzes and Assignments: Weekly quizzes and coding assignments to track progress.

Certification: Certificate of completion awarded to participants who successfully met all course requirements.

The Android Development course conducted during the pandemic successfully provided valuable learning opportunities and equipped participants with essential skills for the tech industry. The positive outcomes and feedback demonstrate the effectiveness of online education in delivering quality training, even in challenging times. Future iterations of the course will incorporate participant feedback to further enhance the learning experience.
