Report on Annual Practical Camp at Somayya Health Project – Dhundalwadi

Objective:

- The objective of the camp was to provide students with hands-on experience in rural development activities and to conduct a comprehensive survey of the surrounding villages to assess their healthcare needs.

Activities:

- Educational Sessions: Students participated in educational sessions focusing on rural development strategies, community engagement, and healthcare practices.
- Field Visits: Field visits were organized to allow students to observe and understand the ground realities of rural life and healthcare facilities.
- Survey Conduct: The Rural Development Department, in collaboration with Sononopant Dandekar College, conducted a thorough survey in the villages of Patilpada, Khadakpada, Hadalpada, Toranipada, and Dhundalwadi. The survey aimed to gather data related to healthcare needs, infrastructure, and community health practices.
- Lecture by Dr. Telangi: Dr. Telangi, Chief of Somayya Health Centre, delivered a lecture highlighting the significance of rural health and the role of community-based healthcare initiatives.

Outcome:

- The camp provided valuable practical exposure to students, enhancing their understanding of rural development and healthcare challenges.
- The survey conducted will serve as a valuable resource for identifying key healthcare needs and formulating intervention strategies in the surveyed villages.

Conclusion:

- The Annual Practical Camp at Somayya Health Project – Dhundalwadi was a successful endeavour, achieving its objectives of providing practical experience and conducting a comprehensive survey. The active participation of students and the collaboration between educational institutions and healthcare professionals contributed significantly to the success of the camp.
