Time :	10.00- 11.30am	Number of Participants total :	64	Number of Participants Male :	35
Venue :	Google meet	Number of Participants Female :	29	Resource Person :	Dr. Minakshi Gurav

Brief Information About The Activity (criterion no.):	3
---	---

Topic/Subject of the Activity	:	Two days Hands on Training on preparation of Minor Research
Objectives	:	To explore the relationship between two variables with a confined context. To investigate the impact of a specific intervention or program on small sample size.
Methodology	:	The two-day training employed lectures, discussions, peer feedback, role-playing, case studies, and Q&A sessions. These methods ensured participants gained knowledge in research proposal preparation, covering topics from theory to application.
Outcomes	:	They will be able to assess the relationship between two variables, identifying if it's positive, negative or neutral and considering contextual factors that may influence the connection. They will be able to evaluate how intervention influence behavior, knowledge and attitudes in targeted group.
Description in Few Words	:	Dr. Minakshi Gurav's two-day workshop was centered on helping participants create strong research proposals for small-scale initiatives. Research process, topic selection, literature review, methodology, data analysis, ethics, budgeting, proposal writing, peer review, and presenting techniques were among the subjects covered. Peer feedback, practical activities, lectures, and debates were all used in the program to help people learn. Participants had acquired the information and abilities needed to produce research proposals of the highest caliber by the conclusion of the program.
