EVENT REPORT

Name of the Event – Study Tour to Shirgaon Fort

Date – 22nd March, 2019 No. of Students Participated –20 Venue – Shirgaon Fort

Objectives of the visit:

- To understand the magnificent high level of art, engineering and architecture of Medieval India.
- To understand the importance of fort during war and for protection of kingdom.
- To understand history of Maratha

About the visit: The study tour to Shirgaon Fort in Palghar was organized by the Department of History for its students pursuing a Bachelor's degree. The fort, located in the district of Palghar, is a historical monument known for its architectural beauty and strategic significance in the region. The purpose of the tour was to provide students with a practical understanding of historical forts and their role in shaping the region's history and politics.

A total of 20 students participated in the study tour along with faculty members.

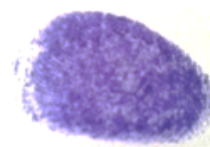

Description of Shirgaon Fort:

Shirgaon Fort, also known as Palghar Fort, is a historical fortification located in the Palghar district of Maharashtra. The fort is situated on the seashore and offers picturesque view of the Shirgaon Beach. Built during the reign of the Yadava dynasty of Deogiri, the fort has a rich history dating back to the 13th century.

The Fort is rectangular in shape. The entrance gate is east facing immediately followed by another gate at a right angle to the earlier. There is the year 1714 inscribed on near the second gate. There are total five bastions. The four bastions at the four corners are octagonal, while the fifth one at the entrance gate is circular. The vestibules for guards near the entrance gate are in good condition. It takes about an hour to walk around the parapet wall and visit all the places of the fort.

Learning Outcomes of the visit:

- Students were able to understand the art and architecture of Shirgaon Fort.
- Students learned about the role of fort in War and protection from enemy.
- Students were exposed to career opportunities in tourism industry as a Guide.
