Report on Annual Practical Camp at Somayya Health Project – Dhundalwadi

Date: January 24th and 25th, 2019

No. of Students Participated: 67

Objectives:

- To provide students with practical exposure to rural development activities and healthcare initiatives.
- To facilitate a comprehensive survey of the surrounding rural villages to assess their health needs and challenges.

Activities:

Various educational sessions were conducted to enlighten students about rural development strategies, community engagement, and healthcare practices. Students participated in field visits to observe the ground realities of rural life and healthcare facilities. The Rural Development Department, in collaboration with S.D.SM. College, conducted a thorough survey in the villages of Patilpada, Khadakipada, Hadalpada, Toranipada, and Dhundalwadi. The survey focused on gathering data related to health needs, infrastructure, and community health practices. Lecture by Dr. Telangi, Chief of Somayya Health Centre, delivered a lecture emphasizing the significance of rural health and the role of community-based healthcare initiatives.

Learning Outcomes:

- The camp provided valuable practical insights into rural development and healthcare challenges.
- Students gained a deeper understanding of the importance of community engagement in addressing rural health issues.
- The survey conducted will serve as a foundational resource for identifying key health needs and formulating intervention strategies in the surveyed villages.

The Annual Practical Camp at Somayya Health Project – Dhundalwadi was a resounding success, achieving its objectives of providing practical exposure and conducting a comprehensive survey. The active participation of students and the collaboration between educational institutions and healthcare professionals contributed significantly to the success of the camp.
